

Diotima Centre

Annual Report

2022

About us

Diotima Centre is a women's non-profit organization, active since 1989, specialized in issues of gender equality.

Our vision is the defense of gender rights and the promotion of a world of gender justice.

Our mission is to provide multifaceted support to women who have suffered gender-based violence and belong to socially excluded groups (unemployed, single parents, low-income women immigrants).

Our intervention is holistic and aims to prevent and address the consequences of gender-based violence, strengthen the voice of women and promote gender equality in all areas of social, cultural, and economic life.

Fields of action

The core of our action is the provision of specialized support services to gender-based violence survivors.

At the same time, we carry out:

- trainings for professionals and the general public
- information and awareness-raising campaigns
- research on gender and gender-based violence issues
- advocacy action

The methodology we use is based on the feminist approach, having at its core empowerment, inclusive support and care; and the interdisciplinary approach, an open process between theory and field experience.

Services for survivors

Our organization is the only one in Greece that provides comprehensive specialized legal assistance services to victims of gender-based violence (Greek, immigrant and refugee women).

Legal assistance includes:

Free legal advice, representation before courts, and coverage of all legal expenses.

In addition, we support women, by providing them with personalized psychosocial support, escort, mediation and interpretation.

Since 2016, we have been providing all of our services to the refugee population as well (women, LGBTQI+, men- victims of gender-based violence and torture).

In 2022, we supported
1.361 survivors
of gender-based violence.
Approximately 800 women
benefited from legal assistance
and court representation.

Empowerment groups

The innovative prevention actions we carry out include multilingual women empowerment groups and male engagement groups.

Through empowerment groups, we seek to inform women on their rights, to build bonds of solidarity and mutual support networks, aiming at strengthening female autonomy.

In 2022,
approximately 3.200 people
participated
in empowerment groups,
prevention, awareness
raising and male
engagement groups.

Trainings

Our training activities are developed year by year, while they are addressed to various audiences:

- professionals, with the aim to identify and deal with gender-based violence incidents
- general public (young people, students), with the aim to raise awareness of gender, consent and violence
- companies, with the aim to raise awareness and inform

For the seminars, we use interactive methods that are suitable for adults.

In 2022, 1704 people
participated in
seminars
organised by Diotima
Centre

Awareness raising campaigns

Campaigns constitute a key tool to inform, sensitize and mobilize society as a whole.

With our campaigns we strive to:

empower women

shift gender stereotypes

shape a collective culture of zero tolerance for gender-based violence

In order to achieve that, we need you on our side.

In 2022
we created and participated in 4 digital campaigns.

#StandByThem

The digital campaign #StandByThem speaks about the experience of gender-based violence. An experience common to women and femininities across borders. The campaign implemented with the support of UNHCR.

We aim to empower and inform women who have experienced violence or are at risk about the services we provide (psychosocial support & legal aid), while our campaign also aims to raise awareness among the wider public.

Watch the campaign in Greek, English, and Ukrainian.

SAFEable

SAFEable is a fully accessible documentary, in which women with sensory disabilities were actively involved in both its planning and production. Through their narratives, the difficulties they face in trying to escape from abusive environments are reflected, while the relationship between gender-based violence and disability is explored.

The documentary SAFEable was created by Diotima Centre and Liminal with the support of the Alliance for Gender Equality in Europe.

Digital campaign on cyber violence

Cyber violence and sexual harassment affect women's physical and psychological health. What is cyberstalking? Can there be non-consensual sexting? Where does consensus start and end?

On the occasion of the increasing incidents of abuse and sexual harassment online and through the use of new technologies, the Diotima Center is launching a new digital campaign on cyber violence and its various forms. The campaign is part of the #PRESS project, implemented under the CERV Project Grants with EU funding.

Do the human right thing

The digital campaign "Do the human right thing" gives rise to people on the move voices in order to be heard louder.

Through the campaign we aim to raise awareness and inform the general public about the violations of these fundamental rights of refugees and asylum seekers.

The campaign is implemented by the Greek Council for Refugees (GCR) and partners the Diotima Center, the International Rescue Committee Hellas (IRC) and Popaganda.

Research activity

Our research activity has been uninterrupted since 1989:

We carry out field research, implementing a feminist and inclusive approach.

We formulate and disseminate policy proposals, on the basis of our research and filed work.

We create policy tools to promote gender equality.

Our aim is to integrate the gender perspective into social, labor, migration, integration and other policies.

In 2022 we published the
following studies:

"State of the art report on sexual and cyber violence"

The research examines terminology, research data and the legal framework on sexual harassment in Greece and Europe.

What is the history of the term "sexual harassment"? What terminologies do we use for gender-based violence online? What do European and Greek research data tell us? What does the international and national legal framework provide?

You can find the answers in the new literature research on sexual harassment and online gender-based violence, conducted by Diotima Center and the Department of Communication and Media (NKUA).

"An assessment of access to health care"

The studies focus on healthcare services on applicants and beneficiaries of international protection on Greece.

The report on access to health care is the third of the series, following the report "Homeless and Hopeless" regarding access to housing applicants and beneficiaries of international protection and the report "Seeking a New Life – Seeking Employment" which assesses the employment situation of applicants and beneficiaries of international protection in Greece.

The reports were drawn up as part of the project "Do The Human Right Thing – Raising Our Voice for the Refugee Rights", implemented within the framework of the Active Citizens Fund.

"Gender and intersectional dimensions of political participation and representation"

The study attempts a genealogy of the contribution of feminist thought to the concept of democracy.

The aim is to highlight important concerns of feminist theory and claims of feminist movements on issues of political participation and representation and to enrich the debate with critical approaches

The study was carried out by the Diotima Center on behalf of the Nikos Poulantzas Institute, in the framework of the thematic Institutions - Democracy - Politics.

"Domestic violence and pandemic"

For the time being, the COVID-19 pandemic remains in full swing. With millions of people around the world suffering from the virus, the impact of the pandemic on all major social structures worldwide is enormous.

The booklet "Domestic Violence during COVID-19 pandemic. Knowing your rights" was created with the support of the British Embassy Athens, in Greek and English language.

This easy-to-use guide, in the form of frequently asked questions and answers, contains the necessary information that survivors of domestic violence, as well as anyone who wants to help, need to know.

Advocacy

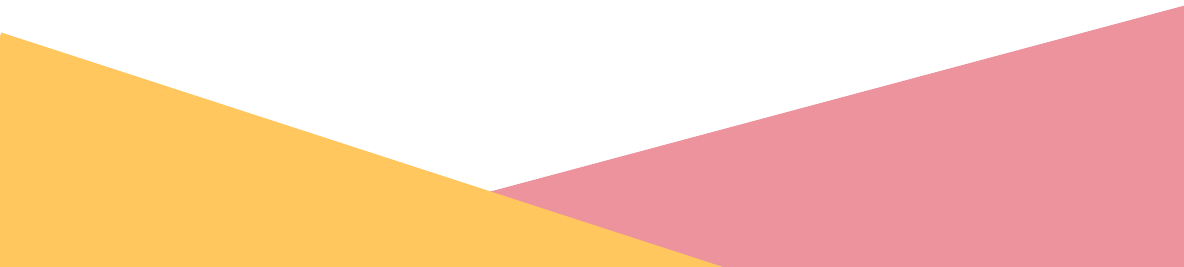

Advocacy actions are a core component of our work.

We are consistently fighting to give voice to the needs and the rights of excluded groups of women, by participating in national and international forums, feminist networks, public consultation processes, lobby groups, networks for highlighting and promoting social issues, and for asserting women's rights.
